Forests' Disappearance Changing Animals' Diet

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 20 (By A. N. Munns, of Washington, D. C., before the International Plant Congress to-

Mr. Munns, representing the United States forest service, said that to attack the problem of the preservation of timber resources from the standpoint of biology, ecology, pathology and kindred subjects the government should establish special resources fellowships.

All growing things, Mr. Munns sserted, suffer by the cutting of forests. The disappearance of nut-bearing trees forces animals to change their diet to seeds and buds. The wiping out of large timber stands raises the temperature of water in the streams and lake, resulting, he added, in harm to fish, which require staple temperature for egg hatch-

RELIGIOUS DISPUTE IN MEXICO LIKELY TO GO TO CONGRESS

Calles Suggests Episcopate Seek an Amendment or Appeal to Court.

WILL PERMIT APPEAL, PRESIDENT PROMISES

Rent Strike by Labor Talked as Counter Action to the Catholic Boycott.

Mexico City, Aug. 20 (By A. P.) Considerable hope has been aroused, with what justification remains to be seen, that the religious question may be solved as President Calles has suggested in a communication to the Catholic episcopate, by bring-ing the matter before congress with a view to securing a constitutional amendment, or before the supreme court for a decision amending or modifying the religious clauses of the constitution. President Calles' letter to Archbishop Mora y Del Rio, of Mexico, is in reply to the recent request of the episcopate that the chief execthe episcopate that the chief executive bring about a suspension of the religious regulations. In it the president reiterates his intention to stand by the constitution, but he says that the Catholic episcopate is left free to make an attempt to have the fundamental law pertaining to religion changed.

He points out that while the episcopate was within its rights in asking him for amelioration of the large of the says of the constitution.

asking him for amelioration of the regulations, relief should be sought of either congress, the supreme court, or both. If the episcopate offered amendments to the constitution, the president declares, he would not use his power to have them withdrawn from congress.

Appreciation Expressed.

In a statement replying to the letter of President Calles tonight, the episcopate neither accepts nor form their lines along the railroad between Galgan and Tatungfu with the mountain of Mongolia at their backs.

Chang Hsueh-Liang, son of Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war the regulations, but merely wants their suspension pending congres-sional action or some other solu-tion. The statement expresses ap-preciation of the conciliatory spirit of President Calles' letter, but does not indicate the episcopate's future course.

So far as popular reaction in Mexico City can be noted, it seems fa-vorable to the idea as the only suggestion thus far offered promising the possibility of a solution. In the first editorial discussing the religious situation in Mexico since the religious rules became effectve on July 31 El Universal favors the proposal. It urges the determination by constitutional means of whether the religious

THE NEW YORK SENATORSHIP.

Representative Carew, of New York city, has assumed the role of prognosticator and spokesman for the Democracy of the Empire State. Mr. Carew, as the result of his keen observations, is prepared to predict a sweeping victory for his party, which will include the reelection of Gov. Smith, in spite of that gentleman's indisposition to enter the gubernatorial race. Mr. Carew is also quite certain that Senator Wadsworth will be defeated, and Mr. Carew has even picked out the man to do the defeating. He is Justice Wagner, of the supreme court, a man who has the confidence of both parties. Mr. Carew bases his prediction upon the assumption that Justice Wagner will draw all the dry votes in the Republican party from Senator Wadsworth, because of the well understood position of the senator in regard to the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law. It was Mr. Carew, by the way, who started the round robin among his Democratic colleagues in which an attempt was made to throw doubt on the sincerity of the senator in that

Mr. Carew fails to explain the basis of his prediction that dry Republicans will flock to the standard of Justice Wagner while all the wet Democrats are expected to throw their ballots to the same candidate. He also fails to show that Justice Wagner is willing to give up his place on the bench for the uncertainties of a political campaign. The justice has six more years to serve on the bench, and he would be required to resign that office in order to enter a political race, as the State constitution provides that "all votes for any such judges or justices for any other than a judicial office shall be void." Justice Wagner has not indicated that he has the slightest intention of resigning his seat for the sake of contending against Senator Wadsworth,

A RECORD YIELD OF FRUIT.

There is a record yield of fruit in the United States this year. A commercial crop of nearly 40,000,000 barrels of apples, 64,000,000 bushels of peaches, 25,000,000 bushels of pears, and 2,500,000 tons of grapes will add to the wealth of the fruit growers and the

The August estimate of potatoes shows an increase of nearly 20,000,000 bushels above last year's yield. If this estimate is correct, a decline in the price of potatoes is in sight.

Exporters of American fruit are looking to the United Kingdom and Europe as an outlet for a part of this year's yield. Some of the European countries expect only half a crop, and will buy heavily from the United States. Several carloads of Georgia peaches were re cently shipped to New York for export to Liverpool. The Department of Agriculture states that, provided sufficient care is used in landing the product in England in good condition, there are large opportunities for the sale of Ameri-

HAITIAN FINANCES.

Prior to the visit of President Borno o Haiti to the United States some months ago the offices of senators and members of the liouse were flooded with pamphlets setting turth the angged distress of the Haitian people according to the authors of these documentary appeals, conditions in the republic under American occupation are little better than those of Russia under the regime of the czar The latest report of W. W. Cumberland, who acts as the financial adviser-general and receiver of the republic, throws another light

This report, which covers the first third of the present fiscal year, shows that the total revenues of the republic amounted to 19,876, 000 gourdes as contrasted with 17,209,000. gourdes in the first four months of the preceding fiscal year, or an increase of 15.49 per cent. As all three sources of revenue-cus toms, internal and miscellaneous-were in excess of those during the equivalent period of the preceding fiscal year, it is apparent that this year is likely to prove one of the best, if not the very best, in the history of Haiti, from a financial point of view. Mr. Cumberland adds that the revenues of Haiti during the four months, October to January, 1925-6, were greater than the average annual revenues during the preceding fifteen years.

The report further shows a steady amortization of the outstanding public debt, great advances in the building of public works, and improvement in the sanitary conditions of the

It has been widely reported that the largest portion of the expenditures for current exnses found their way into American hands brough the payment of salaries to the Amerians employed in civilian and military capacis. In reply to this charge the report shows that while there were paid in salaries and allowances to Americans a monthly average of 176,950 gourdes (a gourde is worth 20 cents), the average paid to Haitians during the same period was 1,192,295 gourdes, or 13 per cent of the total to Americans and 87 per cent to Haitians. In the matter of payments for supplies, 37 per cent was for foreign purchases including American, and 63 per cent for the products of Haiti itself. It is also shown that while the Haitian revenues contribute a monthly average of $35,390 toward the cost of maintenance of the American marines and civilians in the republic, the United States Treasury pays to Americans in the gendarmerie, the public health and public works departments approximately $41,000 each month, or 17 per cent more than the Haitian government pays to all Americans, including civil employes.

On January 31 the total assets of Haiti reached the highest figure ever recorded. They were a little below 31,500,000 gourdes, or almost 3,700,000 greater than on January 31, 1925. Unlike foreign currency in about every corner of the earth the value of the Haitian gourde never fluctuates. It is worth 20 cents in American money, and will continue to be so long as American occupation lasts. That means another ten years, under the treaty, in spite of the political propaganda circulated by Haitian "patriots" who desire easy access to those assets.

BRITISH STRIKE COLLAPSING.

The decision of 13,000 British coal miners to return to work is the best of reasons for believing that the strike is about to collapse. These miners have accepted the offer to return to work at the old wages, with a 71/2-hour day instead of the 7-hour day for which they struggled. The operators, on their side, relinquish their demand for the 8-hour day. Miners in other districts are beginning to revolt against their leaders and are disposed to approve the compromise of a 71/2-hour day at the old wages. Prime Minister Baldwin, instead of remaining and persisting in efforts to bring about a wholesale agreement, has gone to France for a three-weeks' vacation, leaving the two sides to fight it out. Possibly he has knowledge that the strike is about to end.

The British coal strike has been one of the costliest industrial struggles in history. It has virtually paralyzed British industry and commerce, besides costing the government $115,000,000 in a direct subsidy. Nothing except the total suspension of business during the general strike has had such a disastrous effect upon British trade. Coal production since April has been almost entirely suspended. The exports of coal in June of this year were only 1 per cent of the exports for the same month last year. The following extracts from the monthly review by Barclay's Bank indicate the serious effects of the coal strike:

In the iron and steel industry the absence of fuel supplies has been severely felt; most furnaces have had to cease operations.

Operations in the cotton industry have been considerably restricted by the short-

The woolen industry has also been affected by the fuel situation.

fected by the fuel situation.

The ship tonnage under construction in Great Britain and Ireland at the end of June was $41,338 tons, representing about 43 per cent of the total tonnage under construction in all parts of the world. The figure is the lowest recorded since September, 1909, and is 252,000 tons less than in June, 1925.

The number registered as unemployed.

The number registered as unemployed on the registers of employment exchanges in Great Britain on July 19 was 1,631,-300 in comparison with 1,221,912 on July These figures do not include who have ceased work in the coal mining industry.

The stoppage in the coal industry, with its reflex action upon other branches of activity, has now lasted for over thirteen weeks and an indication of some of the losses involved is seen in the decline of £11,785,000 in the traffic receipts of the four principal railway companies in comparison with the corresponding period in

Rt. Hon. W. Runciman estimated that since the stoppage in the coal industry commenced on April 30 the losses in wages and in the home and export trade amount-ed to about £148,000,000, in addition to losses arising from such factors as idle

The resumption of coal mining in Great Britain is necessary from every point of view, sulted in the return of 13,000 miners to work is a fortunate discovery, and has already accomplished more good than all the elaborate reports and conferences that have been devised. The miners have gained half an hour of idleness and the operators have succeeded in holding wages to the prestrike figure Everybody should be willing to end the controversy and resume the work of restoring the prosperity of Great Britain. Americans earnestly hope that Britain's industrial troubles will now disappear.

HOLLAND AND PROTECTION.

As the result of an increase in the value of Holland's imports and a decrease in the volume of its exports, ending in a decided adverse commodity foreign trade, serious discussion has developed as to the need of changing the country's trade policies. It is discovered that the adverse trade balance is the effect of free trade, Holland now being the only commercial country in Europe clinging to that ancien

'Holland's leading economists, it appears, are sking the question: How long can the coun try continue its present trade policies, since it no longer is in a position to safeguard its trade against the aggressive nationalism of other countries?

Consequently Holland's economists and statesmen are formulating a plan to establish a policy of national protection, first to stimulate domestic production, second to protect industries already established, and third to make agreements with other countries along the line of reciprocity.

SHARING PROFITS, BUT NOT LOSSES.

One great weakness of the profit-sharing plan of doing business is that the promoters are willing to share the profits, but not the losses. Many of the contracts made by the Shipping Board with operators of Shipping Board ves sels are on the basis of sharing the profits. but not the losses. The government stands the

During the war New Zealand was induced to enter into one of these profit-sharing arrangements. The government invited the banks to put up the money to erect new and rebuild old frozen meat establishments. The banks made advances of money to the farmers for the building of these meat-freezing plants. There appeared to be a fair margin. But, the war over, demand declined, and several plants were closed down while others operated on a re duced scale. A meat control board, a political establishment, blocked the sale of the crippled and abandoned plants to private parties and the banks and creditors lost nearly all. Profit-sharing was all right so long as there were profits; but when there were losses, the farmers and producers of meat refused to assume their share of the burden.

Profit-sharing is a bad thing for a government. It is a bad thing for anybody unless there is an agreement to share the losses as well as the profits.

Western radicals are insisting that the government shall enter a profit-sharing arrangement with the farmers, the government putting up the money, and the party of the second part sharing the profits but not the losses.

DEADLY COMPETITION.

The cotton cloth mills of the United States have had a hard time during the last three years despite an increase in the import duties on cotton cloth. The Northern mills have not only had foreign, but domestic competition. Conditions, however, are improving, partly because the Northern and Southern concerns have reached an understanding which improves the economic status of both, but also because the Southerners are joining in the demand for tariff protection. They have reached the conclusion that, despite low wages and proximity of raw materials, the cotton mills of the South need protection against foreign competition.

A survey of the cotton cloth situation of the United States shows an improved condition. While exports last year declined somewhat, imports declined more in proportion. Last year exports exceeded imports by about 400,-000,000 square yards, while this year exports were approximately 450,000,000 square yards more than imports. During the two calendar years 1924 and 1925 more than 186,000,000 yards of cotton cloth were imported into the United States, coming into deadly competition with the product of domestic mills. In the nine months ended April 1, 1926, more than 219,000,000 yards of cotton cloth were imported into this country.

All the cotton cloth needed by Americans should be manufactured by Americans. It is a reproach to this country that it does not sunply its own needs in cotton cloth, when the raw material originates here. If foreign manufacturers, by reason of longer experience, lower wages and other advantages, can cut under American manufacturers in this market to the extent of 219,000,000 yards in a ninemonth period, it is evident that the American industry must be protected by a higher tariff than is now provided or go out of business. Now that Southern manufacturers feel the pinch, it is possible that the Congress Democrats from cotton manufacturing States may cast aside party nonsense and take a stand for the principle that underlies all American prosperity-the protective tariff.

A FILIPINO ILLUSION.

The Filipino leader, Sergio Osmena, announced in a public address at a dinner given in honor of Carmi Thompson, at Manila, that President Coolidge told Osmena, when in the United States, that-

We are going to withdraw from the Philippines, but do not intend to leave you with limited resources; we desire first to assist you in promoting economic development, and resources sufficient for your self-support.

From the summer White House comes a characteristic reply, which is not a direct denial, but a reminder of a portion of a letter sent by the President to Manuel Roxas, chairman of the Philippine independence mission in Washington, as far back as February 21, 1924, in which the President said:

It is felt that in the present state of world relationship, the American govern-ment owes an obligation to continue extending a protecting arm to the people of those islands. The American government will assuredly cooperate in every way to encourage and inspire the full measure of progress which still seems necessary preliminary to independence.

This disposes of the matter. The President feels that the Filipinos must advance in education and general enlightenment before they can be permitted to undertake a solution of the difficult problem of self-government witaout the protecting arm of the United States.

The Worst Story I Heard Today—By Will Rogers

The Worst Joke I heard today was told me in London by a man. I don't know his name, but I should judge by his bad English that he was an Englishman. It rambled along as

A certain gentleman, in the reign of King Edward, celebrated for entering the houses of unsuspecting citizens and departing with anyunsuspecting citizens and departing with anything of a portable nature, was caught. He was retired for a term of years to meditate on what constitutes private property. Of course, while in Jail, which term lasted through the war, he learned, second-handed, much of the prominence of Lloyd George. When time come to release him there was on that day a big function given for the King. He was asked if he was going to see the King. "What King?"

"Why, King George! Our King, King George."

The Third House of Congress

By GLENN FRANK-

An article appeared in The Post IFE has a way of running ahead of the textbooks. The practice of about the first instant, entitled "A Babe's Dilemma." The bureau has taken occasion to look into the case government never quite fits the picture of government we see in constitutions and hear about in classrooms.

We wander from the Constitution even while we worship it.

For instance, in the little red-covered textbook on civil government that I studied years ago in a one-room school in Missouri, I was told that the legislative branch of our national government was bi-cameral, which, as the patient teacher explained, meant that the national legislature was made up of two chambers or two houses-the Senate and the House of Representatives.

For a long time I assumed that this was true. But a few years ago I learned that the national legislature at Washington is tri-cameral, made up of three chambers or three housesthe Senate, the House of Representativs, and a third house that is not told about in the Constitution, This is the way I discovered the third house:

One hot summer evening I was driving about Washington with a ournalist, talking about government as it is supposed to be and government as it really is.

We had been talking about the old secret lobbies that had played a picturesque and powerful, a sllent and sinister influence upon government; we spoke of the way in which an awakened public opinion had swung the sword of blame against these lobbies, either driving them out of Washington or driving them further underground.

And then we spoke of the rapid development, during the last 25 years, of Washington headquarters for organizations representing such group interests as business, agriculture, labor, and so on.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The American Federation of Labor.

The Federal Farm Bureau.

In all, I think we counted near a half hundred professional or occupational groups that were maintaining Washington headquarters. All Come on of these headquarters were manned by more or less expert staffs. They were not there as secret lobbies; but they were there openly and above board to "represent" their constituencis.

ton to represent "areas" like States and congressional districts. The experts at these headquarters were in Washington to represent "interests" like wages, hours of labor, working conditions, railway rates, prices, profits and so on.

And so, a new wing was built to the house of representative governnent; the business men, the farmers, the workingmen, and other groups have gradually supple mented official representation by "political representatives" with an unofficial representation by "professional repesentatives."

These 50 or more group headquarters, taken together, today form very real third house of Congress.

Some day we may actually make this third house official. That is to say, some day we may make one of the two present houses of Congress or maybe a third house a body to which we elect representatives because they have wide knowledge of business, agriculture, labor, transportation, taxation, education, and other real interests, rather than because we think they are hopest men and good vote-getters in the First congressional district.

Jazz Is Not Rhythm. To the Editor of The Posta lover of music and a seeker after truth, always, I was amazed by the statement of your music critic in The Post of Sunday Au-gust 15, to the effect that "jazz" gust 15, to the effect that "jazz" was teaching the people rhythm. Not even The Post's estimable music critic can clothe jazz with rhythm—rhythm in the true meaning of the term. Rhythm has been, ing of the term. Rhythm has been, and I venture to say, is still, a recurrent accent, not inflexible. Jazz is certainly not rhythm, but time (and a darn bad time is had by all musicians who listen). The difference is best illustrated by a comparison of the sweet girl graduate. parison of the sweet girl graduate from a school of expression reciting her "piece," giving it a fix accent on every second word, and the true rhythm expressed by an Ellen Terry on important words. Thousands Ask New Highway Be Finished Danville, Va., Aug. 20.— Two thousand residents of cities and towns along the Piedmont highway meet at Gretna today to voice a united plea for the paving of the 39-mile unfinished stretch between Danville and Lynchburg. H. G. Shirley, chairman of the Virginia highway commission, and other members heard the pleas presented by spokesmen from Danville, Lynchburg, Chatham, Altavista and Gretna.

LICENSED TO MARRY.

Ernest L. Burger, 32, of Richmond, and Marrament forces last night recovered San Marcos after a sharp skirmish, in which the rebel forces, it is said, were severe.

The government is recruiting its forces with great determination, not exemptions at all being granted in the conscription. Two thousand of such recruits were dispatched yesterday to reinforce various garrisons throughout the country. There has been no disorder in Managua.

In an action at Dirlomo the rebels were dislodged from the town after a severe fight. Col. Carlos Norales Chamorro, commanding the government forces, was killed. The rebels field from the scene of the fight, leaving many killed and wounded.

By WILLIAM P. In some lines this will not be the case-sugar, textiles, coal, tire-making, agriculture in the Midwest-but in the main, the outlook perienced, as a whole, since the

The Federal Labor Department finds that during the first five or six months of the year employment has been greater than during the same period of last year in such lines as confectionery, ice cream, hosiery and knit goods, silk goods, dyeing and finishing textiles, shirts and collars, iron and steel, lumber millwork, furniture, leather, paper and printing, chemicals, fertilizers, petroleum refining, stamped and en-millwork, furniture, leatner, paper and printing, chemicals, fertilizers, petroleum refining, stamped and enameled ware, glass, chewing tobacco, automobiles, carriages, trolley cars, rubber boots and shoes, pianos and organs, and shipbuilding.

In other lines there has been a slight recession during the first half of the year from the 1925 employment level. These lines include slaughtering and meat packing, flour, sugar refining, cotton, woolen and worsted goods, women's clothing and millinery, saw mills, leather boots and shoes, cement, brick and tile, pottery, and cigars and cigarettes. However, the falling off has been no greater than 1 to 2 percent in most cases.

Labor Department officials estimate that there is little unemployment in the United States today except in certain lines which have been adversely affected. These include the white collar workers, the coal miners, the textile workers and other minor groups. The floating supply of labor always out of a job is placed at about 1,000,000 persons by Francis I. Pending Shortage, Forecast in Some Quarters, Not Generally Looked For.

In some extremely prosperous lines of enterprise, further wage increases appear likely, notably steel and iron. These industries operate almost wholly on a nonunion basis, so far as production is concerned; hence, there is no organized wage demand. Employers, however, have found it necessary to raise wages in times of work. The drift has set in in some sections, and should it continue to gain, only a wage raise will check it.

Sacramento, Calif., Aug. 20 (By A. P.) .- With the 1926 California primary campaign approaching its final week, the activities of United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson in behalf of two of the principal candidates constitute one of the features of the struggle for nominations.

Johnson arrived in California July 30, announcing he had come West to stump the State for Robert M Clarke antiworld courted.

San Francisco, Calif., Aug. 20 (By A. P.).—United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson, in campaigning in California for the nomination of Robert M. Clarke for United States Factory Wages Higher.

Factory wages since the first of the year have been higher, on the average, than during the same period in 1925, official surveys show. Taking the June, 1914, weekly wage as averaging $12.70 in New York State factories—a figure actually determined from the books—it is calculated that the average last J ne was $8.70 as against $28.00 in June, 1925. Every month his year shows a corresponding increase over the same month last year.

It is noteworthy, however, that

Senator Samuel Shortridge, who also is seeking the Republican nomination for senator, is in favor of the world court and Senator Johnson, in his campaign, has commented on Senator Shortridge's stand.

> Wadsworth Predicts His Return to Senate

Paul Smiths, N. Y., Aug. 20 (By A. P.).—Senator Wadsworth, Republican, of this State, informed President Coolidge today that his campaign for reelection was progressing favorably and that he had every confidence in his ultimate success. The senator told newspaper correspondents afterward that his campaign would be based on national issues, which would include the prohibition question.

An advocate of repeal of the eighteenth amendment and modification of the Volstead act, Senator Wadsworth said he had noted an increasing sentiment of dissatisfac-tion looking toward prohibition modification.

By no means attempt to lower your standards, The trouble starts in the first few weeks when your husband is alone in these strange places. He is not of an exacting type socially, and when friendly overtures are made to him he accepts, regardless of the source. On the next trip leave your home when be does. Go to a hotel in the new town for a time—or to a superior type of boarding place—until you kept up. However, once settled, he starts in to make friends for himself. And certainly they are not the people his position would entitle him to mix with. He seems to have a low taste. His friends are the rough class and he never takes me with him. He will always say that I could not stand the crowd for there is plenty to drink and the talk is rough, women that swear and all kinds of stories and jokes. The women are the wives of the men, and it is often at their homes, either in the cheaper part of the city or out in some woods, and there he goes for all his week-ends and holidays, where they wash the children, dishes and clothes in the same tub, and I guess water, as far as possible.

Conduct and Common Sense

TRICKS THAT WELL-BRED GIRLS AVOID.

By Anne Singleton. GIRLS who consider their parents old-fashioned are very apt to consider their advice about conduct old-fashioned, too. but really there is a charm in good I don't mean a prim charm, a prunes-and-prisms charm but an "houest-to-goodness" charm-but an "houest-to-goodness" charm-ing charm which may be used as flirtatiously as any other. Manners change, of course, and we don't curtsey to our grandmothers, or it doing cross-stitch at our nother's side; but nothing is more bewitching than a certain kind of pretty behavior. And, in a worldly way, it is very rewarding. Girls pretty behavior. And, in a certain kind of pretty behavior. And, in a worldly way, it is very rewarding. Girls who remember to say "thank you"dor kindnesses, who pay visits and write letters when they have enjoyed the hospitality of their elders, do not lose by it, you may be sure, do not lose by it, you may be sure. But, even if they don't go out of their way to be civil, they should be careful about their conduct. These are some of the things I have heard ill-bred girls criticized for, Awkward bearing. Untidy ways of dress. Loud talking. Foolish laughter; not the nice, hearty kind that comes from a real joke, but the silly cackle. Horse-play and practical jokes. Nudging and patting people. HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. W. A. EVANS

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease. Requests for such service can not be answered. BORROWED CHILDREN.

People who are ambitious to acquire wealth, position, power, or information sometimes put off having families until they are ready for them. It often happens that that "ready" time never comes. Yearning for immortality, they turn to adoption. The name they would continue, though the succession of blood descents, which has continued since Adam, must come to an end.

The question comes up, What precautions shall be taken? Com-

She would be unable to face Peter Barton. She would plead illness, stay home, conduct the rest of the transaction by letter, recommend Hattie to take her place and train her, at home, for her new duties.

She herself would find a new job. Or—she might give it all up and go home.

them plucked. Do I approve?

Most decidedly not. Plucking the eyebrows was a craze, happily gone forever. I hope. Those unnaturally thin eyebrows look terribly demode today; and at no time could they have been considered beautiful. Often the plucking ruined the whole expression of the face, leaving it vacuous and positively silly in appearance.

Try brushing the eyebrows with a tiny brush; you can shape them in this way, without the disadvantage of mutilation, If you have little rain this growing right over your nose so that your eyebrows meet, you can gently pull these hairs out with tweezers. Don't think of shaving them a foolish trick I knew one girl to do. And don't ever have a depilatory or the electric needle ure used so near the eyes, because this can be dangerous.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Aug. 20 (By the Associated Press).—Exporters and millers competing gave the wheat market a lively holst today. Fully 1,000,000 bushels of North American wheat were bought for shimment to Europe in addition to as much more the day previous. Closing prices here for wheat were unsettled, 1% to 2% cup, oats at 3% % to %c advance, and provisions unchanged to 17c down.

A still greater volume of export business appeared feasible today if exporters could get the wheat. Mills, however, were sharply after good grades and exporters had a difficult the same announced one export was announced one export of world's shipments. GOSIONS FUTURES: Checked the decline in many of the checked the decline in many of the checked the decline in the uprails and turned some of them up-ward, but losses on the day were quite general throughout the group. The exceptions were Northern Pacific, which seemed to be under accumulation, advancing to 77%, for a gain of 1% points over yes-terday's closing price; Missouri Pa-cific, Union Pacific, Rock Island and Chesapeake & Ohio. As usual, speculative interest converged on United States Steel common and General Motors, the rails and turned some of them up-common and General Motors, the two stocks which, more than any other, had been used on the rise to generate bullish sentiment. The demand for steel around 150 was very good; so good, in fact, that all the selling in the early session was absorbed without difficulty, and eventually the guotation was bid up to 1521/4.

On the afternoon raid, however. On the afternoon raid, nowever, the price was broken below 149, when renewed buying sent it back to 150. General Motors moved on parallel lines. Selling ex-dividend, $1.75 in cash, it opened lower, but recovered the dividend, only to break to 197% in the afternoon. break to 197% in the afternoon. In the final half hour fresh buying appeared and the price moved up sharply to 200 1/4 for a gain of almost a point on the day.

Other high-priced stocks were weak, most of them sinking into new low ground. However, a few new candidates for speculative favor were bid up with some success Fluctuations in the foreign exchange market were again generally narrow, although strength of French and Belgian francs was more noticeable than for several days. Potessen Medical stiffered Rates on Madrid stiffened after an early decline. Sterling and Scandinavian rates were steady.

BOND PRICES RESUME FORWARD MOVEMENT

Foreign Industrial Issues and Domestic Rails at Year's New Highs.

LOAN FOR CHILE

New York, Aug. 20 (By the Associated Press).—Broadening activity in the bond market today was accompanied by a resumption of the upward price movement. For the first time in several weeks, spirited bidding developed for popular foreign industrial issues and a number of domestic rails. Miting them to a new high level for the year. Liquidation continued in spots, but it was too scattered to influence the general trend.

The increasing value of stock purchase prifileges, due to rising markets abroad, accounted for spectacular advances in Rheinelbe Vinion 7s and German General Electric 6 ½s, which scaled new peaks New York, Aug. 20 (By the As-spectacular advances in Rheinelbe Union 7s and German General Electric 6 ½s, which scaled new peaks above 112 and 118, respectively. French railway issues made the next best showing in the foreign list. Nord 6 ½s rising more than a point to the year's top prices at 82½.

A revival of interest in railroad liens was credited to special development affecting several companies. Chicago & Alton 3½s and certificates reached new high levels on rumors that new banking interests had purchased large blocks of these bonds and would participate actively in the road's reorganization, probably on behalf of a larger system seeking control of the Alton. Reorganization prospects of the St. Paul also was a factor in the strength of Chicago, Terre Haute & Southeastern 5s, while Delaware & Hudson issues followed a sharp upturn in this company's stock.

Atlantic Coast Line 4s, New York Central 4s were among the few heavy spots in the railroad group, while Rochester Gas and Electric 7s and New York and Richmond Gas 6s lost ground in the public utility division.

Interest in new financing was heightened by the announcement

Interest in new financing was heightened by the announcement that a $10,000,000 loan had been arranged for Chile and that the $16,000,000 Peruvian bond issue had been quickly oversubscribed. The Chilean bonds will be offered

New York, Aug. 20 (By the Associated Press).—Prices in today's curb market continued to drift within a narrow trading area, final quotations again disclosing marked irregularity. Persistent liquidation of some of the high-grade industrials on the "big board" this week has caused liquidation of large hlocks of "long" stock on the curb, and has had a tendency to restrict pool operations temporarily

Oils were sluggish despite reports that gasoline consumption in the first six months of the year was the largest of any similar period in the country's history. Humble, Ohio and Reiter-Foster fell back a point or so, and most of the others yielded fractionally. Bullish demonstration in the baking shares, during which Continental Baking A was bid up over 4 points, to 88%, quickly petered out and that stock dropped back to 86. Coal and raido shares showed little change. General Motors (new stock) fluctuated within a range of 2½ points, closing fractionally higher, at 163½, after having sold as high as 152. Victor Talking Machine jumped another to Talking Machine jumped another of the company's product. For the first 32 weeks of the year the mills of seven softwood lumber associations reported cumulative orders 222,000,000 feet in excess of production and 27,000,000 feet over shipments, a substantial increase compared with a year ago. Conditions for the week ended a August 14 were little changed in the hardwood industry, the National Lumber Manufacturing association announced, but increased with a reduction of about 5 per cent in New Orleans.

Production and shipments of rolled steel in August by several manufacturers in the Youngstown district have been heavy and new record for that month are expected. closely following the records in July. Wire mill operations in the Pitts-

Wire mill operations in the Pitts-burgh district range from 50 to 60 per cent of capacity, with improve-ment in specifications for nails and wire. An advance in the price of plain wire is anticipated.

P.) .- Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, will leave Saratoga Lake Sunday night, where he has been training for his fight next month with Gene Tunney, and will take up new training quarters Mon-day in Atlantic City. Dempsey's manager, Gene Normile, announced tonight that the move to Atlantic City is at the request of Tex Rick-ard, promoter of the bout Septem-ber 23 in the Sesquicentennial sta-dium at Philadelphia.

First today came the usual workout with the pulleys, shadow box-ing, the jumping rope and such stunts. Then Dempsey staged seven rounds of fast work with as many of his sparring partners. He punished Big Bill Tate a little, also Jimmy Brown, a middleweight, who took a hard walloping. Others who pion were Johnny Saxon, weiter-weight, Joe Kurp, Harry Martone

Dempsey and Tunney Berlenbach Knocks Out Francois Charles in First Round.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 20 (By A. P.).—Tickets for the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney world championship boxing bout, to be held in the Sesquicentennial stadium September 23, will be placed on sale next week. Prices will range from $3 to $27.50.

In making this announcement today Jules Aronson said that Tex Rickard, New York promoter of the fight, would come to Philadelphia Monday to establish publicity and ticket selling offices. With Rickard will come a corps of ticket salesmen and other attaches of his organization to set the local machinery in motion for the first heavyweight world's championship ever held in Pennsylvania.

Invitations to establish their training quarters were sent today to Dempsey and Tunney by several country clubs and others. No replies have been received to any of the invitations as far as could be learned.

Dumbarton Netmen

In Annapolis Match
An interesting tennis match will be played at Annapolis tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock when the Dumbarton club team will meet the Navy Leach Cup capplication.

THE latter, always rated one of the most powerful drivers among America's women players, has seldom risen to the brilliant heights she attained yesterday. Her strokes were deep and heavily topped and at no point did she appear to find difficulty in scooping up the low slices of her opponent.

Miss Ryan, on the other hand could not consistently lift the ball over the net in the first two sets. She recovered bravely in the final set, but critics who predicted an impressive march by the veteran to the throne vacated by Miss Wills viewed the day's results as brightening considerably the outlook of Miss Browne and Mrs. Mallory.

Mere is a hide to take to the' tannery. Goes in the third out at Lincoln field today and is labelled XXX special by the lads who fondie the tick-tock clock. The "wee boys" may not fancy this, but we should worry. Personally, I like to see them run once, but MIDWESTERN possess a bit of class. SORLINE'S race of Thursday gives her a look in, while the superior mudder RE-PEATER and MIDNIGHT ROSE as easily hold the others safe.

"Tetsay" Bornham—the fryingpan ma, has KENT L also named with the old Fu Fu powder on his tonsue, is likely to spill the frijoles. Mad is his leather.

John Lowe has ICE rearin' to go. She is named in the opening dash and will be mighty hard to catch. CALIGULA is almost sure to show improvement, as also is SHAMPOO and PORTO DE ORO.

The Jones boys, from Missouri, will shake every last nickle out of the "iron men" with SERGEANT SETH in the fourth. This is a pretty shifty plater and he revels in the going.

For the Dixie J fancy KING NADI. He is some horse and finer than split silk. The Headley entry of SUPBEMUS and HELEN'S BABE will go well, while an honest track for his best effort.

Down at Saratoga, the United States Hotel stakes is the plece de resistance. For this I am taking the speed marvel SCAPA FLOW, which will have Fator in the pilot house. Feature Contest Listed Tomorrow at "Hollow."

PROVIDING the rain is turned off, two games will be played in the ranks of the Capital City Baseball league's unlimited series today. The real activity, however, is booked for tomorrow.

Today, over in the famous Georgetown hollow, the Khickerbockers, leading Section A, will entertain the Maryland A. C. at 4 o'clock, while

ANY of those who follow the doings of the sand-lots closely are of the opinion that the title this year lies betwen the Knicks and Harps and they are not without foundation in so thinking. The Knicks have won their six games played while the Shamrocks have dropped only one.

Sentiment was passed up in the sentiment was passed up in the scheduling of the game, or rather the Georgetown hollow, home of the Knicks, was disregarded. Being the Knicks' home game, they chose to play it on the Friendship field, a much better diamond than

Knicks Meet Replacing Whole Backfield ппп WINDY WHITE MISSED Is Task Facing V. M. I. Coach

EXINGTON, Va., Aug. 20 (By A. P.).—Since the days of the Stewart-Leach - Bunting - Dixon foursome that made history at Virginia Military institute and gave to the Cadefs the name "Flying Squadron," V. M. I. has been the stamping ground of fast, smooth-running back fields. Paradoxically, it is the back field that Coach Blandy Clarkson is most concerned with this year, and upon his ability to round out a set of ball carriers the fate of the 1926 Flying Squadron will largely depend.

There is one glaring ray of hope, however, in the back field that must charge without "Windy" White, "Snäll" Caldwell. "Dutch" Districk and Johnny Willis. In "Curly" Gfroerer Clarkson apparently has a find. The scintillating liftie halfback played last year only enough to give warning of what was to be, but in those few

Today, over in the famous Georgetown hollow, the Khickerbockers, leading Section A, will entertain the Maryland A. C. at 4 o'clock, while the Shamrocks, holding second place in the same section, tackle the Marlboro club on the Mount Rainier field also at 4 o'clock.

Both the Khicks and Harps will be warming up today for their big battle tomorrow, although both must watch their step in these Saturday games.

Tomorrow's clash of the Knickerbocker and Shamrock nines looms as one of the best attractions of the current season. Rivals of old, these clubs battled their way to the finals last year in while the Georgetown the knick proved as capable-looking broken field material as has been seen here in a number of years.

With a splendid nucleus for a front wall in the husky though inexperienced line of a year ago, which this year should come into its own, V. M. I. coaches expect to center most of their attention on lining up an attack. Johnny Fain will probably be shifted their way to take in the quarterback job, with Ab Barnes as his assistant. Frank Nabers, John Chapman and Rip Bishop are to scrap man and Rip Bishop are to scrap-for Windy White's old berth, and Joe Farley, "Slick" Harner and Ted Moore are looked upon as the likely candidates for halves.

THE center job will again probably fall to Shep Bondy and Rugh, with the former having the edge because of experience. Tiny Smith and Red Kearney are slated for guard berths, with Tubby Adams and Walker in a fair way to ring in as alternates. way to ring in as alternates. Kulp, whose work last year caused considerable favorable comment, is sure of a tackle, and Kelly, Moorman, Preston and Neid fighting for the other regular tackle.

On the ends the Cadets will miss

On the ends the Cadets will miss Fain, but there are good prospects for the jobs in Ned Yates, Cherry Crockett, Pinky Thornhill, Bellinger, and Woodbury.

Undoubtedly the most serious blow suffered by the Cadets was the loss of White, for it was due to the super-strength of the Cadet fullback that the inexperienced line held its own last year. Experience is, however, counted on to go a long way in offsetting the loss of White behind the line, as the front wall is expected to be more capable of taking care of situations. Amassing a speedy foursome will probably prove a gigantic task, but Clarkson has mapped out an optimistic schedule which leads to the belief that he is hopeful of putting out another team that will give a good account of itself.

The Cadets sound the clarion call for Virginia football against this year, with Wofford college on the program Saturday, September 18. A week after Rip Major's eleven has gone, the Flying Squadron will clash with the University of Richmond on Alumni field.

ARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 20.—
The greatest sale in the history of the American turf was held in the Fasig-Tipton paddock here tonight when 60 head, bred by Phil T. Chinn in the Himar study at Lexington, Ky., were auctioned. The 60 head brought the fabulous price of $428,600, an individual average of $7,142. The same consignment had set a record last year, when 53 head had brought $351,000, and, while it was generally agreed that this would be the most lucrative sale of the current season, no one could have predicted that the total would bring such record-breaking prices.

Twenty-four of the 60 young-sters brought more than $5,000, 13 more than $10,000 $5 more than $5000.

FISHERMEN'S

By BILL WALTER. E. BIRCH'S vacation last week was completely wrecked. Mr. Birch was spending the week at Boyce, on the Shenandoah, and due to the water being muddy every day never unleashed his rod.

Oliver Scheibell, of the Sport Mart shop, will leave Sunday for his home in Logan, Ohio. Mr Scheibell plans to get in quite a bit of fishing.

Clifton Birch and Al Reinberg fished at Herring Bay Monday and landed hardheads and spot.

Simon Kann and a party had lots of luck fishing at Benedict Tuesday. Among their catch were hardheads one would think to be far beyond this eel's power of swallowing. The conger lives in 20 to 50 fathoms of water, but it ascends between the tidewater marks, and has been found at low water on dry land. Like the common eel it pre-fers a nocturnal life, and in the daytime shows the same proclivity for hiding among weeds and stones, in crevices and sand. It also lies in wait at the mouth of rivers for migratory fishes on the upward and Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 20 (By A. P.).—Tax Bickard's so-called orphaned heavyweight bout between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney, transferred from New York to Philadelphia because of license differences, faces legal proceedings here to night.

First. John M. McDevitt, counsel for James Corbett, former world's champlon, decided he would advise his client to ask an injunction restraining Bickard from putting on the fight here on the ground that Corbett had priority over all claims to the contest here.

Second Taylor and Gunnis, local boxing promoters, presented to Corbett had priority over all claims to the contest here.

Second. Taylor and Gunnis, local boxing promoters, presented to Mayor Kendrick through an attorney their claim of a contract or agreement with Sesquicentennial efficials giving them the right to stage boxing bouts at the municipal stadium and protesting that they have no hand in prometing the title contest.

McDevitt said that Corbett will be here next Tuesday. The attorney asserted that Corbett told him last winter of a plan to have international bouts in the municipal stadium, one of which would be a heavyweight battle for the championship of the world. Dempsey, the lawyer said, had agreed to fight Harry Wills here and the Sesqui officials gave their approval.

Sesqui officials pointed out tonight that no contracts were signed. As to Taylor and Gunnis, ft is understood they do not intend to throw any legal obstacles in the pathway of the battle, but they feel some compensation should be given them for expenses incurred in seeking Dempsey's services in a proposed.

The Harrismen now are but four The ordinary eels that are found in our tivers and ponds are often referred to as "fresh water eels," but in truth, they never breed in fresh water. They have been bred far in saif water, and, when two or three inches long, those that are to become females gather in large schools and ascend the rivers and tributaries inland from the sea.

Later, sometimes after several years, these descend to the sea to breed, as their ancestors of countless thousands of generations before them have done. While this descent is being made, they refuse food, and many hundreds have been caught and found with stomachs and intestines entirely empty.

IN obtaining the services of "Bullet Joe" Manager Harris counted on this veteran to turn in at least a dozen victories. Instead, he won but one game and kicked away eight. Zachary and Ballou, on the other hand, both are having good years in the Mound City.

Of course, there is always an element of luck connected with deals of this kind. Had Bush, who won fourteen games for the Brownies last season, duplicated his stunt here, or had the deal not been made at all, the chances are that the Net pow would be there are the Nats now would be there or thereabouts in the present flag-chase instead of being satisfied with a mere second berth.

But such is life. Getting the best of it in deals for Coveleskie and Ruether gave the Nats two flags and a world's title, so they still are ahead of the game in their dickerings at the trading mart.

BALLSTON SESSION OF EPWORTH UNION

Play Presented at Virginia, Maryland and District Conference.

Despite inclement weather, more than 300 delegates attended the bimonthly meeting of the Epworth League Union of Washington, Maryland and Virginia last night in the Ballston Methodist church. Arthur Keefer, of Brentwood, Md., presided.

Supper was served at 6 o'clock to the delegates by the women of the Ballston Methodist church, which was followed by a social hour and song, led by the Rev. Edward Sheepe, pastor of the Aurora Heights Methodist church. A play, entitled "Wanted a Companion," followed, directed by Miss Annie G. Smith. The characters were I. B. Loanlee, Ida M. Fowler, Anna McAlwee, Ralph A. Robertson, William E. Mattingly, Malzie L. Smith, Norman Binger and Jack Guesski.

Carolina Mountaineers Appear in the Movies

New York, Aug. 20 .- Mountaineers living in the fastnesse of North Carolina, Kentucky and nearby States now are to be hown in a movie.

A picture with only these decendants of early American colonists as actors, has been completed by a group of men sent to the hilly regions by the Famous Players - Lasky Corporation, it was announced today.

A 16-year-old mountain girl was chosen to play the role of the heroine, while a native youth was chosen for the hero part. According to the men who supervised the picture, none of the people taking part in its production ever had seen a motionpicture camera or ever had heard of the attraction which draws thousands to movie houses throughout the country each Criticism of Act General Because of Insufficient Sum for Uniforms.

The extent to which the District government will have to go into the second-hand clothing business as a result of the new act of Congress to provide police and fire uniforms at public expense, and a mass of other detail in connection with administering the act, will go before the commissioners today in a report by a special committee of District officials named several weeks ago to make recommendations.

Final touches were added to the report yesterday by the committee, which has been considering its Final touches were added to the report yesterday by the committee, which has been considering its problem in several meetings. The committee consists of Maj. Daniel J. Donovan, auditor; George S. Watson, chief engineer of the fire department; M. C. Hargrove, purchasing officer; Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, and Daniel E. Garges, secretary to the board of commissioners.

Amendments to the manuals of the police and fire departments respecting uniforms have been prepared. These provide that the commissioners, instead of the heads of the two departments, will contract hereafter for purchase of uniforms.

When a member of either of the departments dies, resigns, is discharged or is retired, the department will reclaim those of his clothes that are District property. Each department will set up a storehouse for the used clothing thus reclaimed. The articles in the storehouse will be made over, if their condition warrants, for new men added to the uniformed forces. Condemned clothing will be turned over to District institutions to be made over for immates.

Criticism of the act is general in that it does not provide for $75 yearly to be paid to each member for uniforms, or at least that it does not give the commissioners a lump sum consisting of $75 multiplied by the number of men to be clothed, so that if one man does not use up his allotment the remainder may be used to pay for

INDICTMENTS FOUND IN 4 ALLEY CASES

Decision Will Be Attacked by a Writ of Error to the Appellate Court.

CONSTITUTIONALITY NOT PASSED ON BY COURT

Judge Holds Law Does Not Apply to Dwellings, but Only to Alleys.

Motions to quash the indictments n four alleged violations of the act of Congress governing alley dwellings were upheld by Judge Gus A. Schuldt in an opinion handed down yesterday in police court. The decision will be attacked with a writ of error in the Court of Appeals by Corporation Counsel Francis H. Stephens. Judge Schuldt declined to express his opinion on the constitu-tionality of the law, preferring to leave the decision to the higher court. The law provides that buildings for dwelling purposes shall not be erected in alleys which do not run straight from and open on two straight from and open on two streets bordering the square and is not 30 feet wide and is not supplied with sewer, water main and gas or electric lights. The demurrers and motions to quash filed by Ralph A. Cusick and Charles T. Clayton, attorneys for the defendants, hold that the act is unconstitutional and in violation of the fifth amendment of the Constitution, and that the any facts to constitute an offense under the act.

Injunction Not Upheld.

The action in police court fol-lowed an unsuccessful attempt by property holders to uphold an in-junction against the enforcement of the law which will evict 2,500 alley dwellers if enforced in the Court of Appeals. Criminal action must first be taken to carry the cases to the

be taken to carry the cases to the Court of Appeals.
Judge Schuldt held that the law is intended to apply to the alleys themselves and not the dwellings therein. This is disputed by the corporation counsel's office who contend that the law applies to the dwellings themselves. The defense asserts that this would mean configation of more than $3,000,000 in property and a violation of the fifth amendment.
